Read the overnight log

Which readings crossed the handoff threshold?

Published greenhouse sample. 24 observations from 2020-04-18 00:00 to 2020-04-18 23:00. 12 readings above 80% RH. Peak 86.94% RH at 2020-04-18 12:00.

USE YOUR OWN DATA

Use one row per timestamp. Set the review threshold for your own room. Filter flagged rows and compare the peak timestamp with the equipment log.

TAKE THIS TO YOUR AI ASSISTANT

Draft a three-sentence shift handoff. Quote the highest reading and its timestamp. Identify one check the next shift can perform. A sensor reading alone cannot establish a cause.

RETAIL & PURCHASING

Find the shortfall

Will stock last until the next delivery?

A shop has 48 small exit bags and used 98 in seven days. At 14 per day, it needs 70 for a five-day lead time. Projected shortfall: 22 bags.

USE YOUR OWN DATA

Enter stock on hand, units sold in the last seven days and delivery lead time. Sort by largest shortfall. Check open purchase orders before buying.

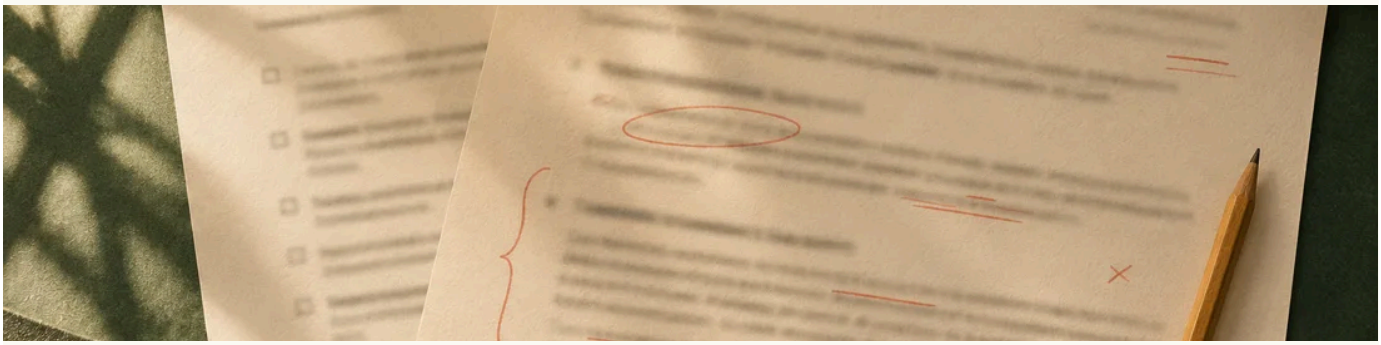
Use the exported figures to prepare a purchasing handoff. Show the demand calculation, name the first item to check and ask about pending deliveries.

Illustrative data. Projected shortfall is rounded-up demand during lead time less stock on hand, floored at zero.



OPERATIONS & TRAINING

Brief the next shift

Which instruction actually changed?

The sample replaces “Enter the lot ID” with “Scan the lot ID” and adds a shift-lead sign-off for quantity discrepancies. Two lines are added, one removed and two retained.

USE YOUR OWN DATA

Place the earlier and revised procedures side by side, one instruction per line. Compare versions and copy the source lines into a briefing. Check the approved version before sharing.

TAKE THIS TO YOUR AI ASSISTANT

Draft a three-bullet briefing from the exact changed lines. Cite the revised line numbers for any new responsibilities. Ask the owner to confirm the effective date.

Illustrative receiving procedure. Reordered lines can appear as a removal and an addition.
